Manifesto

We work to live because we are passionate about living, about finding the balance with time to do things that enhance our experiences. More family time, less time in traffic. More outdoors and less TV. More personal and less generic. More active and less static.

Enjoying a quality life shouldn't cost a million. That's the attitude embedded into our design. cassa brickell is the groundbreaking side of urban living offering the space and the feel of a personal home.

It's where urban merges with the outdoors.
A blend of technology and distinguished taste.
Life begins at home.

It's real, unique in heart, boutique by design and huge in idea.
Welcome home, welcome to cassa brickell
